Why it's special: If you associate portfolios with a dry list of facts, Robby incorporates an interactive experience into his portfolio. an interactive experience into his portfolio.

What it's about: If you associate portfolios with a dry list of facts, this portfolio might surprise you. Robby found a novel way of displaying what was otherwise dry information — he laid out his portfolio site as a videogame that the visitor can actually play. This incredibly fun interactive design portfolio will make you scroll.
